As Time passes from season to season, Thoughts are changed and fancies move from past to future.

With a dash of color, a blanket of snow, and a shower of green, the Seasons take you on a ride to see the cross-section of people and places.

Fun and excitement runs high,

especially when

everyone is one big family.

Activities in college go at a rapid pace
with every moment used for something useful—or unuseful.

You have just seen a campus that is growing at a rapid pace.

When we, the closs of 1968, first came to Methadist College we were a disunited ossembly fram scattered parts of the cauntry. Our first job, and aur first step as a class, was ta select an able slate af class officers. We elected John Gardner as our president, Jerry Smith as vice-president, Anno Dixan as secretary, and Walter Shearin as treasurer. As aur Senate representatives we chose David Holmes, Sue Jessup, and Gene Rapelye. These officers set for themselves the gaals of promating better relatians between aurselves, the faculty, and the upperclassmen ond developing mare schaal spirit and class participotian.

Our freshman yeor was a time af learning and experiencing new things. It has been o time of odjusting, meeting peaple, finding a compatible group, and harvesting the advantoges af peaple, class, and octivities. Although our emphasis was an expanded and speciolized training, we faund time for same outside activities. In the fall of 1964, we sponsored a haatenony with different participating graups from the student body. We alsa taak part, thaugh not in a big way, in the book mave ta the new library. On February 12, 1965, our class gave a Valentine Dance featuring the Catalinas. These activities, alang with ather sacial events spansared by the Freshman class, have made aur class an octive part af the student body.

The Sophomare Class began the year in the traditional manner with class elections. Bill Tarr was elected president; Gary Miller, vice-president; Gearge Pearce, treasurer; Mary Linda Lancaster, secretary; our three senatars, Betty Lipscamb, Mary Ann Duncan, and Pat Hardee.

The first meeting af the class brought about a few recanstructians of last year's policies, and although Saphomore participation left a little ta be desired, the meeting did serve to acquaint the class with a few of the year's plans. The majar responsibility af the Sophamore Class far the year was ta sponsor the annual Christmas Dance. Cammittees were set up to plan the various stages of the dance, with the fallowing peaple heading the committees: Bob Nardone, Band Committee; Mary Alice Hall, Publicity; Holly Williams, Decaratians; Gary Miller, Refreshments.

After much deliberation, Friday, December 11, was set as the date far the dance, and the Bluenotes were contracted to supply the music. The Saphomore Class expresses its gratitude ta all thase wha put sa much time and effart into making the dance a sacial success. The class takes pride in saying that it sponsared the dance even though the financial autcome was rather questionable.

The remainder of the year was dedicated to making the connectians between the class members and its afficers more accurate and complete, and ta preserving and maintaining the stature and recognition of the Sophomore Class.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Assaciatian at Methodist College is a large and important organization because it is made up of every full-time student enrolled at the college. The S.G.A. is divided into three distinct branches which are Executive, Legislative, and Judicial. The S.G.A. strives to further activities af student life and promote interest in campus affairs bath academically and socially. In obtaining this objective, the S.G.A. solicits the cooperation af each individual member of the S.G.A.

The Junior Closs presented in the preceeding poges merits ottention—not for its occomplishments only—but for its messoge to members of future closses.

In 1962, the closs wos enrolled as the lorgest closs to thot dote—one hundred ond eighty strong (or weok). Now the closs numbers sixty-two, with o projected groduoting closs of fifty-five. Some are still in school, but the mojority ore not. This gives o note of sodness—not only for the remoinder of the closs but olso our stote, our country, our world.

The class now is o unified body, orgonized ond ossimilated within our environment, not for the purpose of individuol edificotion but for the propogation of Methodist College and educotion.

The closs is organized with o board of directors, o standing octivities committee, and legislotive ond judiciol representotion.

Financiolly, the closs revenue this yeor come from two speciol closs projects, 90% closs-poid dues ond income from the Librory Move.

As o tribute to the Senior Closs, the closs of 1966 hod the pleosure of honoring the former with the traditionol Moy Donce held on Moy 8, o special tribute to o class from which we leorned much.

The Closs of '66 wos born in the months of 1961 ond 1962. Its life hos begun to moture. It will never die—not so long os one of us or our descendents remember the debt we owe Methodist College, its Foculty, Administrotion, ond supporters thereof.

Davis Bradley reaches far a rebound against Charlatte College.

The Methadist College Manarchs campiled an averall recard af 4 wins and 16 losses thraughaut the 1964-65 basketball season. Canference play ended with 4 wins ond 6 lasses and a faurth place tie with St. Andrews. A main factar in mast af the Monarch's 16 lasses was the lack af height on the teom. Out of the starting six ployers, the average height was 6' 1''. The tollest storting player wos 6'3''.

Carsan Harman, who as a freshman last year was all canference, again led the team with a conference average of 17.9 paints a game. Don Parsons averoged 14 paints o gome and Phil Levine averaged 12.5.

Next year's autloak mainly depends an the height factar. If the Monarchs have one tall man in the line-up next yeor it could be a different stary. With the able caaching af Ernest Schwarz ond Gene Claytan the Monarchs cauld ga all the way next seasan.

In Memory of

Betty Maness
April 4, 1942 - April 3, 1964

Dear friend, far off, my lost desire,
So far, so near in woe and weal,
O loved the most, when most I feel
There is a lower and a higher;

Known and unknown, human, divine;
Sweet human hand and lips and eye;
Dear heavenly friend that canst not die,
Mine, mine, forever, ever mine;

Strange friend, past, present, and to be;
Loved deeplier, darklier understood;
Behold, I dream a dream of good,
And mingle all the world with thee.
